

EMAIL PERFORMANCE SCORECARD

Sales Team — Industrial SMB

Reporting Period: March 1 – March 31, 2026 · 6 Sales Development Reps

Overall Score

Your team is performing above average compared to industry benchmarks. Response rate and time-to-first-reply are standout strengths. Focus areas include improving follow-up consistency and coaching underperforming reps.

● Above Benchmark: 4

● At Benchmark: 1

● Needs Attention: 1

Key Metrics

Response Rate

34%

Benchmark: 28%

+6%

Avg Reply Time

2h 14m

Benchmark: 3h 30m

-1h 16m

Follow-up Rate

61%

Benchmark: 55%

+6%

Email Volume

847/wk

Benchmark: —

6 reps

Thread Engagement

3.2

Benchmark: —

avg replies

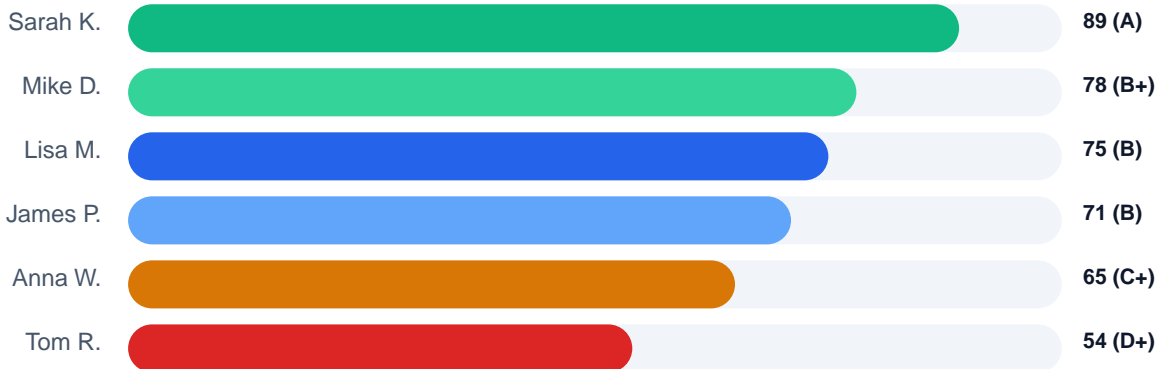

Time-to-First-Reply

47 min

Benchmark: 1h 15m

-28 min

Rep Performance Comparison

BEST PERFORMING REP

Sarah K. — Score 89/100

Highest response rate, fastest reply times.

NEEDS IMPROVEMENT

Tom R. — Score 54/100

Low follow-up rate, slower reply times.

Weekly Score Trend (8 Weeks)

Team performance score trended upward over the past 8 weeks, with a net improvement of +4 points.

Actionable Recommendations

1 Implement Structured Follow-up Sequences

Your follow-up rate of 61% is above benchmark but has room to grow. Create a standardized 3-touch follow-up cadence for all reps—especially for Tom R. and Anna W.—to ensure no prospect slips through the cracks. Teams that follow up within 24 hours see a 22% higher conversion rate.

2 Pair-Coach Underperformers with Top Reps

There's a 35-point gap between Sarah K. (89) and Tom R. (54). Set up weekly 1:1 coaching sessions where top performers share email templates, subject line strategies, and timing tactics with reps scoring below 65.

3 Optimize Send Times Using InboxCore Analytics

Your 47-minute time-to-first-reply is excellent—leverage this by analyzing which send times correlate with fastest response rates. InboxCore can auto-suggest optimal send windows per prospect timezone, potentially improving response rate by another 8–12%.

Want your own team's scorecard?

InboxCore connects to your email platform and generates a personalized performance scorecard in minutes.

Get Started Free